

We're moving the unofficial kickoff of the holiday season online this year - but it's going to be as joyful as ever as we invite everyone to join us in support of 21 local charities who need our help. Christmas Cheer has been supporting local charities for almost 70 years, and this year they need us more than ever. So get your coffee and breakfast and tune in!

Hosts Graham Richardson and Patricia Boal along with the ever-entertaining Matt Skube will help make spirits bright throughout the breakfast and will welcome local celebrities and elected officials including Minister Lisa MacLeod, Mayor Jim Watson, members of City Council and Santa!

MUSICAL GUESTS, INSPIRING SPEAKERS AND A SPECIAL SURPRISE PERFORMANCE!

The Tenors

They're Canada's own multi-platinum selling recording artists known internationally for their incredible vocal talents including performances for the Queen and sharing the stage with stars like Céline Dion. Don't miss their special performance as they add their voices to our appeal for support on behalf of local charities.

Wali Shah

Canadian speaker and poet Wali Shah is an inspiring thinker and performer who has delivered TED Talks, created poetry for corporate events and inspired people with his advocacy and philanthropy. Don't miss his original work inspired by the charities supported by Christmas Cheer.

Steph La Rochelle

Ottawa's own Steph La Rochelle has been entertaining since she was five. Now, she is an emerging country music artist and actress who has appeared on TV and on-stage including a lead role in the award-winning musical Dear Evan Hanson. Don't miss her special Christmas Cheer performance!
